Sub: Report on Jagrithi - Foundational Course for Clinical care 2022 (February 21st to 24th, 2022)

Respected Madam,

The program "Jagrithi - Foundational Course for Clinical care" was conducted from February 21st to 24th, 2022 followed by the White coat ceremony on 25.2.22. At the outset, we thank you for supporting the initiatives of the Health Professional Education Unit. A total of 60 UG students and 25 PG students benefited from the workshop.

The Jagrithi - Foundational course for clinical care is a student capacity building program, which has evolved from the "Patient safety and communication skills workshop" which was conducted during the period 2016-21. "Jagrithi" has taken the best of the previous workshops on Communication skills, ethics and professionalism, empathy and infection control practices and added two additional training programs "Humanities" and "prescription writing workshops".

The workshops were designed systematically using Kern's 6 steps of curriculum development which focused on needs assessment, setting objectives, designing, implementing and evaluating the sessions for further improvement. The 6 workshops were conducted for 20 hours spread over 3.5 days from the 21st of March to the 24th of February 2022. The goal of the foundational course was to instil the values of ethics, professionalism, empathy and humanities in our students as they entered the clinical program. The course focused on developing the communication skills and improve the doctor-patient interaction through the communication skills workshop. The importance of sterilisation and disinfection and prescribing medication diligently was brought in through the two workshops devoted for training in clinical management. The program evaluation feedbacks, informal discussions indicate that the workshops have been greatly successful in meeting the goals.

In addition, a 5 year impact assessment was undertaken to evaluate the patient safety and communication skills workshop. This impact assessment was taken earlier at the end of 3 year period (2019) and now at the end of 5 year period (2022). Both the assessments have demonstrated self reported behavioural change among students who have participated in this training program, thus indicating high utility and value addition to the students and institution. The detailed reports of the 6 workshops and the impact assessment report is attached for your kind perusal. Once again, we thank you for providing the necessary support to undertake this program for the 6th year in succession.

Yours Sincerely

Dr. Bhagyalakshmi G

Student Experience of the Jagriti workshop

Good morning to one and all present here.

I'm Sahana Hebbani, a 3rd year BDS student. As a fresher when I joined this institution in 2019, I had witnessed my seniors have their White Coat ceremony and since that day, we were all excited to receive our white coats someday and today is the day when we stand in front of you, wearing a white coat. That feeling of being a doctor is so surreal!

We all just had a vague idea that white coat would just be receive our aprons but as a 3rd BDS student I would definitely tell it's just not receiving the apron. Let me tell you, we have had a 3 and half day long workshop Jagruthi, the foundational course to train us into being this.

For most of us, workshop was something new. We were used to having our teachers talk but in this workshop, there was an entire role reversal, this workshop helped many open up, leaving behind every flaws and the thought of being judged. It helped us in raising our voices, making our thoughts being heard and giving every thought a meaning.

We started the first day with 'Empathy Workshop', where we were taught the actual meaning of empathy. We were provided with vivid activities which enhanced our thinking process and improve our understanding. It very important for every human to empathise the fellow being and as a budding doctors its very Important for us to understand the meaning of it. Every faculty who conducted the workshop made sure that each person talks, as our batch 19D, is very well known for "not speaking". Each activity had a different entities and made the activities very enjoyable and delightful.

Following which we had humanities workshop. We watched a very beautiful documentary of Dr. Rajagopal on palliative care which made us understand a very beautiful concept, "It's not who we are but what we do makes us a great person".

Ethics is what guides us to tell the truth, to understand the difference between right and wrong. "Chintana and mathana" as rightly says to think and to act. It was very well explained by Dr. D K Srinivas Sir with various real life scenarios to understand the problems which we would deal in our daily lives.

Lastly, we had prescription writing and communication, the two most important and integral part of doctor's life. Communication is what helps us in differentiating between confusion and clarity.

I would like to end with a beautiful quote in Dr. Rajagopal sir's documentary, "It is the wealth that matters and not the pieces of gold or silver."

I would like to thank Our principal Dr. Asha ma'am, the department of Public Health Dentistry. Dr Jyotsna ma'am and Dr Deepthi ma'am, resource persons and all the faculties for providing us with this workshop, enlightening us, shaping and moulding us into being a better person today.
