Annexure 1: Workshop on Empathy and humanities

Workshop designed and developed by : Dr. Deepti Vadavi

Internal resource persons: Dr. Divya and Dr. Subhash

The empathy and humanities workshop was initiated with the objective to develop humane and responsible dentists who are able to provide quality oral health care to their patients. To achieve this the workshop focussed on the following:

1. Helping the students understand the meaning of empathy. Differentiate between sympathy & empathy
2. Appreciate and practice skills like active listening, recognize microexpressions. These help in demonstrating empathic behavior with each other and patients.
3. To get a hands on experience on handling various types of patients and learn their empathic management through a role play.

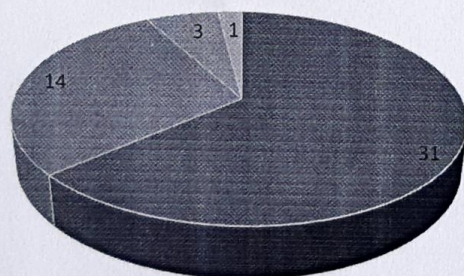

The feedback obtained from the students emphasizes that the students liked the workshop and are able to appreciate the importance of active listening. The detailed feedback is attached.

As empathy and humanities development is a continuous process, the concepts need to be reinforced to the students so as they are able to handle the various challenges they face in their clinics. Hence, we wish to introduce reflective practice among students by asking them to share their clinical experiences over google forms and hold need based (monthly/bi monthly) sessions with the students to clear their doubts on empathic behavior demonstration with patients.

Annexure 2: Feedback from the student representatives on the workshops and white coat ceremony

Good afternoon to one and all present here,

I, Dharika Suresh from third year BDS, on behalf of all my fellow batchmates would like to take this opportunity to appreciate and offer our sincere gratitude for the wonderful workshops that were conducted for us and also for making the most awaited white coat ceremony happen amidst the given situation

Just the fact that only few colleges do this is enough to make us feel lucky but having a workshop on ethics and professionalism where we were given a chance to interact with people like Dr D K Srinivas or the communication skills workshop by Mr. Raghotham rao, and to learn so much from it has left us feel blessed

Not only that, the way these workshops were conducted, filled with activities especially the infection control and patient safety workshop, the demonstration and the videos deserve a special mention

The workshops have opened our eyes towards how integral it is to learn and practise basic things like punctuality, empathy, active listening, effective communication and so on, in better words, how much difference all this makes in our lives

I, for one, really got a better idea of how my life as a dentist would be and what responsibilities come with it

Although all the stuff I mentioned are majorly directed towards being a better clinician or a practitioner, I would like to mention the other part of our learning in the last three days and that is, these workshops made us realise the power of learning through interactive sessions and how much we actually missed them because we have been attending online classes for over a year now

Not only that, even though we all have been together as a batch since more than two years now, we get chance only to interact with our adjacent roll numbers or our friends, but thanks to workshops, I interacted with my classmates more in the last three days than from last three years because of all the shuffling, group activities and discussions

Overall, if I could rate the experience it is 10/10, but if I can rate the learning, it's definitely 11/10

It's not only these things, small things like sending an encouraging message on the group, the google form feedbacks, efforts to make our activities creative, attention to small details, it's outstandingly appreciable

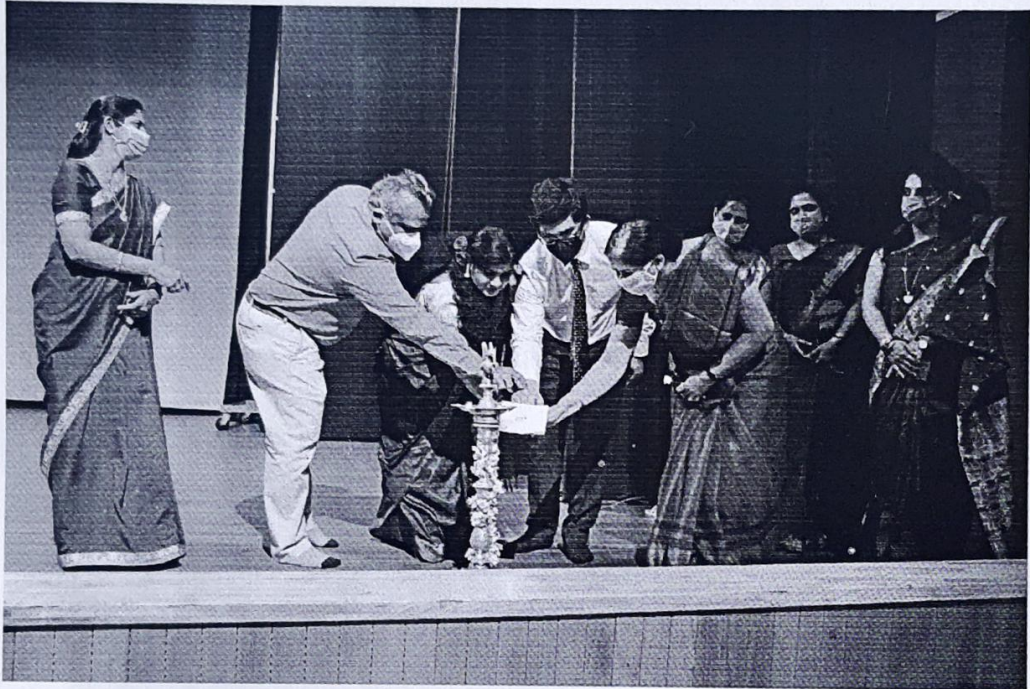

So, my words might not do the justice but we are really grateful and glad and extend our gratitude to our respected principal, Dr Asha Iyengar Ma'am, Dr Bhagya ma'am, Dr Jyotsna ma'am, Dr Deepthi ma'am, Health education unit and the hospital infection control committee and Dr Roopak sir for making this happen for us

As a student, We have been looking forward to white coat ceremony since the day we knew about it and I would be lying if I say we didn't discuss about it in all our video calls during the lockdown, that's how much it meant to us

We really wish our parents were here, but we respect the protocol taken as it is the right decision to make

We promise to apply and practise everything we learnt and do our best

Thank you so much, we shall cherish this for the longest time.
